Local regulatory knowledge – the support to software company’s growth in Latin America

Adobe explains how TMF Group’s support was crucial for the consolidation of its business in Brazil, Chile, Colombia and Mexico.

About the client

Since its foundation in 1982, Adobe has been changing the world through digital experiences. The company’s creative, marketing and document solutions empower everyone – from emerging artists to global brands – to bring digital creations to life and deliver them to the right person at the right moment for the best results. Adobe has approximately 15,000 employees in 41 countries.

In our own words

“In 2006, Adobe acquired a software company called Macromedia and the acquisition had a direct impact on operations in Latin America. Given the projected consolidation, we had to better structure the accounting, financial and compliance processes. We had to align processes to the legal and regulatory requirements in each country where we would operate.”

How TMF Group helped us

“Our accounting team in the United States conducted a survey that helped pinpoint needs, as well as determine the best supplier to help Adobe with our new challenges. TMF Group was across all the accounting, financial and payroll requirements in all markets where we would be operating.

Working with TMF Group was crucial to helping us establish our operations in Chile and Colombia, giving us certainty that we would be aligned with each country’s requirements. By relying on TMF Group’s support, we knew we would be up to date with new regulations, and have the peace of mind to dedicate our resources and efforts to strategic issues related to Adobe’s core business. This translates into security to continue growing and expanding our business in Brazil, Chile, Colombia and Mexico.”

In the future

“We rely on TMF Group to support us in the process of consolidating our business in the region, especially in Colombia and Chile, where we have been present for only five years. Regulations are constantly evolving; and the TMF Group helps us ensure compliance with local requirements in our operations.”

“We needed to rely on high-level knowledge in different economies. TMF Group has this knowledge, and was key to the establishment of Adobe’s operations in new markets in this region, complying with complex and varied local requirements.”
